

Oxford University Press is one of the leading publishers of commercial law for practitioners and scholars. The publishing for 2008-2009 in this field includes Vogenauer & Kleinheisterkamp: Commentary on the UNIDROIT Principles of International Commercial Contracts, which is a major new work on this important aspect of commercial practice.

We are delighted to announce the publication of McGrath: Commercial Fraud in Civil Practice. This work will assist all those advising on the rising numbers of fraud cases by providing perceptive analysis of the relevant law and practical guidance on procedural issues.

Several important new editions will publish this year including Schlechtriem & Schwenger: Commentary on the CISG 3e and Bridge: Sale of Goods 2e. Both titles will make a major contribution to the literature in the field of sale of goods.

To discuss publishing within OUP's contract and commercial law list please contact Rachel Mullaly at rachel.mullaly@oup.com.

Slechtriem & Schwenger: Commentary on the UN Convention on the International Sale of Goods (CISG)

Third Edition

Edited by Ingeborg Schwenger, Professor of Law,
University of Basel

Reviews of the previous edition

"...an indispensable aid to understanding, using and applying the CISG."

The Rt Hon Lord Steyn

- A leading and reliable Commentary frequently cited by courts and tribunals all over the world
- A complete and thorough comparative analysis of all accessible decisions by courts and arbitral tribunals throughout the world, offering a convenient single source of reference
- Includes a full index of cases and covers Part II of the UNIDROIT Principles
- Includes full text of the INCOTERMS

The Convention on the International Sale of Goods is one of the most successful attempts to unify parts of the law of international commerce. The Convention is now in force in more than 70 states and there are thousands of decisions by courts and arbitral tribunals that apply the rules of the Convention with the numbers increasing each year. This third edition of the Commentary considers the developments brought about by the accession of 10 countries including Japan and Turkey. It covers the recent reporting of 273 CIETAC awards on the CISG as well as commenting on major decisions in international case law and the impact of developments in domestic law (such as AG v Blake [2001] 1 AC 268) on an international level.
