

Oxford University Press is a leading publisher of energy and environmental titles for academics and practitioners. We are pleased to publish the new Journal of World Energy Law and Business, the official journal of the AIPN. This journal examines emerging legal, business and policy issues for both professionals in the field and academics.

Meanwhile, the Journal of Environmental Law is an authoritative source of informed analysis of current and emerging concepts, policies and practice for both practitioners and academics.

Important new titles in this sector include Critical Issues in Environmental Taxation, now in its 6th edition, the 2nd editions of A Practical Approach to Environmental Law, and the 3rd edition of International Law and the Environment. To discuss publishing within OUP's environment and energy list please contact Catherine Redmond at catherine.redmond@oup.com.

Journal of World Energy Law & Business

Founding Editor:

Professor Thomas Wälde

The 2009 special issue on climate change will provide a useful overview of how the changing environment is affecting international energy issues.

The Journal of World Energy Law is the official journal of the AIPN and provides high-quality coverage of upstream oil and gas transactions, finance, taxation, regulation, dispute management, alternative energy resources, energy policy and security and international energy organizations.

Addressing the legal frameworks of Emission Trading Scheme in the EU and other legal frameworks in the US, Australia, CCS and internationally, the 2009 special issue of the Journal of World Energy Law & Business also discusses renewables and biofuels. With contributions from Simone Borg, Janet Milne, Rosemary Lyster, Marjan Peeters and Marijke Schurmans, you can now handle global energy issues with an expert edge.

Just a few of the articles which will appear in Journal of World Energy Law & Business 2009:

- Expropriation of Oil and Gas Investments
- Public-Private Partnerships in Energy
- Reciprocity as a factor of the energy investment regimes in the EU-Russia energy relations
- Economic and legal aspects of ownership unbundling of energy networks within the EU

Subscribe today

Are you interested in subscribing, or would like a free online trial to the Journal of World Energy Law & Business?

Email us at corporatesales.uk@oup.com or call +44 (0) 1865 353734

www.jwelb.oxfordjournals.org

International Energy Investment Law

The Pursuit of Stability

Peter Cameron, Professor of International Energy Law and Policy and Director of Research, University of Dundee (CEPMLP)

This monograph examines and assesses the variety of legal instruments from international and commercial law that have been designed to promote stability in long-term contracts in the international energy industry (including dedicated contract provisions, bilateral investment treaties and multilateral treaty instruments). It pays particular attention to their practical impact through an analysis of their enforcement by arbitration tribunals and bodies, such as ICSID, the ICC and the LCIA.

978-0-19-954523-0 | Hardback | £145.00
330 Pages | September 2009

Critical Issues in Environmental Taxation

Volume VI: International and Comparative Perspectives

Edited by Jacqueline Cottrell, Project Manager, Green Budget Germany, Janet E. Milne, Professor of Law and Director of The Institute of the Environmental Tax Policy Institute, Hope Ashiabor, Associate Professor of Law, Macquarie Law School, Sydney, Lawrence A. Kreiser, Professor Emeritus of Accounting, Cleveland State University, and Kurt Deketelaere, Professor of Law and Director of The Institute for Environmental and Energy Law, University of Leuven

- Provides a global perspective of environmental taxation

978-0-19-956648-8 | Hardback | £135.00
984 Pages | March 2009

Legal Aspects of Carbon Trading

Kyoto, Copenhagen and beyond

Edited by David Freestone, Lobingier Visiting Professor of Comparative Law and Jurisprudence, George Washington University Law School, Washington DC, and Charlotte Streck, Founding partner and director of Climate Focus

Legal Aspects of Carbon Trading: Kyoto, Copenhagen and beyond covers the Kyoto Flexibility Mechanisms and also the EU Emissions Trading Scheme (ETS) as well as examining the negotiation for a successor regime to the 1997 Kyoto Protocol. This volume covers the legal aspects of these schemes, including current proposals for US actions.

This volume builds on the success of the editors' previous volume published by Oxford University Press in 2005 which remains the standard work of reference for legal practitioners and researchers on carbon finance and trading under the Kyoto Protocol.

978-0-19-956593-1 | Hardback | £95.00
550 Pages | October 2009

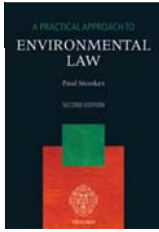

NEW EDITION

A Practical Approach to Environmental Law Second Edition

Dr Paul Stookes, Solicitor-Advocate, Richard Buxton; Part-time lecturer, School of Law, University of Hertfordshire

This book provides comprehensive coverage of the full range of law and legislation relating to the environment, including: The Environmental Assessment of Plans and Programmes Regulations 2004; the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004; and the Environmental Information Regulations 2004.

A Practical Approach to Environmental Law makes extensive use of cross-referencing, examples, checklists, case studies, and key reference documents.

A Practical Approach
978-0-19-955331-0 | Paperback | £49.95
688 Pages | January 2009

NEW EDITION

Environmental Law Second Edition

Edited by David Woolley QC, Barrister, Landmark Chambers; John Pugh-Smith, Barrister, 39 Essex Street; London, William Upton, Barrister, 6 Pump Court Chambers; and Richard Langham, Barrister, Landmark Chambers

Written by a group of practising barristers, all with specialist experience of environmental law, it covers all aspects of the area including the practice and jurisprudence of the tribunals which administer it in England and Wales, and Northern Ireland.

The new edition includes recent legislation such as the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 and considers the impact of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004.

978-0-19-923280-2 | Hardback | £195.00
904 Pages | February 2009

Journal of Environmental Law

Editor-in-Chief:
Chris Hilson

The Journal of Environmental Law has become an authoritative source of informed analysis for all those who have any dealings in this vital field of legal study, including for both legal practitioners and academics.

The journal includes major articles on a wide variety of topics, providing innovative and authoritative appraisals of current and emerging concepts, policies, and practice. It includes an analysis section which gives detailed analysis of current case law and legislative and policy developments.

Sign up for FREE content alerts
Visit: http://services.oxfordjournals.org/my\_account and select a username and password to register

Comparative Environmental Law & Regulation

Nicholas Robinson, Race University School of Law

“A thorough and well written report... One of the best treatments of subject in print.”
Journal of Environmental Law

Written by experts with in-depth knowledge of their jurisdictions, each country review discusses the impact of environmental laws on business transactions and offers practical advice on dealing with regulatory and enforcement authorities

Each chapter analyses the key environmental laws, regulations, and implementation systems and agencies of thirty-nine countries worldwide. National statutes for protecting the public health from pollution, governing industrial safety standards, establishing parks and management regimes for wetlands, wildlife habitats, and other biomes, are also covered.

978-0-379-01251-4
Main work price: £335.50
Price per release: £125.00
Approximately 3 releases per year
Looseleaf

International Protection of the Environment: Conservation in Sustainable Development

Wolfgang Burhenne, International Union for the Conservation of Nature, and Nicholas Robinson, Pace University School of Law

This work serves to illustrate the constructive integration of cultural, social and economic development with environmental protection. The authors examine “conservation” as an integrated combination of pollution control, natural resource management, and nature protection. This work provides the documents which form the ‘soft-law’ administrative instruments for the implementation of international environmental treaties (which include Agenda 21). This gives the reader the tools to understand how the law translates into practice. This work is supplemented by a number of additional subjects such as energy and the polar regions.

978-0-379-10295-6
Main work price: £586.00
Price per release: £117.50
Approximately 4 releases per year
Looseleaf

NEW EDITION

International Law and the Environment Third Edition

Patricia Birnie, Former Visiting Fellow at the London School of Economics and Political Science, Alan Boyle, Professor of Public International Law at the University of Edinburgh, and Catherine Redgwell, Professor of International Law at University College London

As conservation of the environment plays an increasingly important role within society, International Law and the Environment continues to be the essential read for students and practitioners alike. Written by experts in this field, the authors share their extensive knowledge and experience of international regulation with the reader.

This edition features extended treatment of Genetically Modified Organisms and biotechnology as well as the implications of ethics and the environment. It also benefits from new material covering the role of the International Maritime Organisation and Non-Governmental Organisations, which continue to grow in their influence over legislative provisions.

978-0-19-876422-9 | Paperback | £36.99
888 Pages | January 2009