

At the core of Oxford's practitioner publishing in European Law is our major looseleaf publication Law of the EU, edited by David Vaughan and Aidan Robertson, and which incorporates distinct sections on 30 areas of substantive law. This is supported by an increasing number of new titles in this field spanning trade law, customs union, social and employment law, and intellectual property law amongst others.

For practitioner proposals in this field contact Luke.adams@oup.com

EU Social and Employment Law

Policy and Practice in an Enlarged Europe

Philippa Watson, Barrister, Essex Court Chambers; Visiting Professor, City Law School, London

- Clear structure and language provide an accessible guide to a complex area

This timely book provides a broad-based approach to EU employment law, covering related social policy and anti-discrimination measures, as well as a detailed overview of how policy and law are made. It analyses in detail EU legislation and case law in the areas of collective and individual employment rights, including redundancies, transfers of undertakings, working time, part-time and fixed term and temporary employment. The author further considers the case-law concerning equality of treatment on the basis of gender, race, age, disability and religion.

978-1-90-450153-4 | Hardback | £95.00
584 Pages | March 2009

EC and WTO Anti-Dumping Law

A Handbook

Wolfgang Müller, European Commission, Legal Service, Nicholas Khan, European Commission, Head of Unit - DG Trade, and Tibor Scharf, European Commission, Legal Service

- The only comprehensive text that deals with this specialist and highly technical area of law and considers both EU and WTO law
- Expert commentary written by a team from the EC Commission with expert inside knowledge

This book is the long-awaited new edition of the 1997 book by the same authors and includes all the changes in that period including relevant Court rulings, the extensive practice by the Council and the Commission of the European Union as well as reports by the WTO Dispute Settlement Panels.

978-0-19-956531-3 | Hardback | £175.00
1,000 Pages | March 2009

EU Law of Free Movement of Goods and Customs Union

Laurence W. Gormley, Professor of European Law & Jean Monnet Professor, University of Groningen; Professor at the College of Europe, Bruges; Barrister

- Fully up to date coverage of the law of free movement of goods and customs union in the EU which provides practitioners with a single resource on the key issues

This work gives a practical overview of the legal aspects of the Free Movement of Goods, the working of the Customs Union within the European Union and their interpretation and application by the Court of Justice of the European Communities. It also analyses the operation of the customs union, with detailed treatment of the Community Customs Code and its implementing and associated measures.

978-0-19-922900-0 | Hardback | £145.00
850 Pages | September 2009

European Union Law Guide

Compiled and edited by Philip Raworth, Professor Emeritus, School of Business, Economics & the Law, University of Alberta

The European Union Law Guide delivers an up-to-date commentary that describes the structure and functioning of the European Union. Practical commentaries offer the reader a roadmap to the many directives, regulations and decisions promulgated by the European Union and implemented by its member states.

978-0-379-10175-1
Main work price: £680.50
Price per release: £120.00
Approximately 7 releases per year
Looseleaf

European Trends in the War on Terror Threats on Human Rights

Christophe Marchand

This book is one of the first publications to provide U.S. audiences with a European viewpoint on the global war on terror. Marchand, a defense attorney for terrorist suspects in European courts, shares his thoughts on European nations' response to contemporary terrorist threats. Readers who have been researching the same issues in the context of the U.S. Constitution will benefit from this book's analysis of how Europe has tried (and often failed) to reconcile security and liberty. Researchers will also gain an in-depth understanding of the broad changes wrought in European criminal law over the last several years.

Terrorism: Documents of International and Local Control
978-0-19-538847-3 | Hardback | £67.50 | February 2010

Preliminary References to the European Court of Justice

Morten Broberg, Associate Professor, University of Copenhagen, Faculty of Law and Danish Institute for International Studies, and Niels Fenger, Professor, University of Copenhagen, Faculty of Law

- Provides a completely up-to-date and comprehensive resource on the preliminary reference procedure
- Structures information clearly and concisely for practical use in litigation and case preparation
- In-depth coverage and critical analysis will also appeal to the academic audience and provide a point of reference for future academic debate

978-0-19-956507-8 | Hardback | £125.00
470 Pages | October 2009

The EU Common Fisheries Policy Law and Practice

Robin R. Churchill, Professor of International Law, University of Dundee, and Daniel Owen, Barrister, Fenners Chambers

This book lays out in detail the varied roles and responsibilities of the EU under the Common Fisheries Policy (CFP). A detailed exploration of all relevant sources of law including the large amount of legislation, relevant international treaties and agreements (including the UN Convention on the Law of the Sea), and European Court of Justice case law is offered. The policy issues crucial to understanding the law on the CFP and its operation in practice are also explored. An extensive bibliography is included to inform further research on the many diverse areas covered under the CFP.

Oxford European Union Law Library
978-0-19-927584-7 | Hardback | £95.00
400 Pages | October 2009

EU Counter-Terrorist Policies and Fundamental Rights

The Case of Individual Sanctions

Christina Eckes, Post doctoral researcher, University of Amsterdam

- Offers the first full-length analysis of the complex legal problems surrounding individual sanctions in the EU's counter-terrorism policies
- Situates the EU's policy in its international context, offering comparative perspectives on the European measures

This book examines the complex legal issues arising from the European Union's practice of listing and sanctioning private individuals for having supported terrorism. The analysis focuses on three main issues: fundamental rights protection in the fight against the financing of terrorism, the relationship between the European legal order and the UN Charter.

Oxford Studies in European Law
978-0-19-957376-9 | Hardback | £60.00
300 Pages | October 2009

The Free Movement of Capital and Foreign Direct Investment

The Scope of Protection in EU Law

Steffen Hindelang, Research Associate and Lecturer, Eberhard Karls University Tübingen, School of Law

- Presents the first full-length analysis of the protection of foreign investors under EU law
- Provides a timely reconstruction of the case law on free movement of capital
- Offers a valuable analysis of the relationship between EU internal market law and the international law of foreign investment

This book provides legal advisors, tax consultants, government officials and lobby groups with the necessary information to conduct complex work effectively on behalf of their clients and principals. The work is provided in an accessible format, and includes a wide range of reference sources.

978-0-19-957265-6 | Hardback | £70.00
456 Pages | July 2009

Principles, Definitions and Model Rules of European Private Law

Draft Common Frame of Reference (DCFR)

Edited by Christian von Bar, Professor of Law at the Universität Osnabrück., and Eric Clive, Visiting Professor, University of Edinburgh School of Law

This landmark reference work marks the culmination of over 20 years' research into the history and potential future of European private law and provides readers with the most comprehensive resource available for researchers in European law and legal history. Commissioned by the EU itself, the study will form a central part in all future discussions of legal harmonisation within the EU. Full commentary is provided on the text of the 'draft common frame of reference', together with references to and comparative analysis of all the national legal materials used as a basis of the text.

978-0-19-957375-2 | Hardback | £650.00
6,100 Pages | November 2009

Law of the European Union

Edited by David Vaughan QC, Barrister, Brick Court Chambers; Honorary Professor of European Law, Durham University, and Aidan Robertson QC, Barrister, Brick Court Chambers and Pavlos Eleftheriadis, Fellow in Law, Mansfield College, Oxford; Barrister, Francis Taylor Building

- Provides a comprehensive overview of the principal institutions, structures and frameworks of EU law and administration
- Offers regular updates in a constantly developing field
- Analyses a wide range of legal issues in detail, with citations and authorities provided for each proposition

Written by a team of the most distinguished lawyers in European Union Law, this expansive looseleaf covers the institutional framework of the EU, the structure and procedure of the courts, general principles of EU law and the four basic freedoms underpinning the operation of the common market. The subject by subject format provides a narrative statement of the law, regulations, directives, decisions and cases.

978-1-90450111-4
Main work price: £850.00
Price per release: £625.00
Approximately 4 releases per year

ALSO OF INTEREST

The Rome II Regulation

By Andrew Dickinson

See page 9 for more information