

The Personal Injury, Tort and Medical Law list at Oxford University Press introduces two major titles this year; the new edition of Principles of Medical Law and the first edition of a major new work on Mental Health Law will provide comprehensive and authoritative guides for practitioners in these areas. Aimed primarily at the practitioner market the list also includes more specialised titles such as Peter Feldschreiber's book on the Regulation of Medicines as well as the must have JSB Guidelines on Damages.

To discuss publishing within the Tort, Medical and Personal Injury list, please contact Joanna Scott at joanna.scott@oup.com

NEW EDITION

Principles of Medical Law

Third Edition

Edited by Andrew Grubb, Senior Immigration Judge, University of Bristol, and Jean McHale, University of Leicester

- Authoritative account of common law and statutory provisions governing health care provision in England and Wales
- Fully updated to cover major statutory changes including the Human Tissue Act 2004, the Mental Capacity Act 2005, the NHS Act 2006, the Mental Health Act 2007 and developments in the case law
- New chapters on the test for capacity, mental health law and the legal regulation of the use of human material
- Major cases discussed include Chester v Afshar HL (informed consent and causation), Gregg v Scott (causation), Evans v UK, Dickson v UK (reproductive rights).

978-0-19-954440-0 | Hardback | £225.00
1,580 Pages | March 2010

Principles of Mental Health Law and Policy

Lawrence Gostin, Professor of Global Health Law at the Georgetown University Law Center; Philip Fennell, Professor of Law Cardiff Law School, University of Wales; Jean McHale, Professor of Law, University of Leicester; Peter Bartlett, Professor of Mental Health Law, University of Nottingham; and Ronnie McKay, Professor of Law, De Montfort University, Leicester

Principles of Mental Health Law provides a comprehensive account of the law concerning mental health in England and Wales. From the historical backdrop to the current law in the area it provides detailed examination of the Mental Health Act 1983 and the changes introduced by the new Mental Health Act 2007. The regulation of care and treatment in hospital and the community is explored. The book also goes beyond the legislation to explore the legal and regulatory challenges in the area of mental health in a range of areas from confidentiality and privacy.

978-0-19927936-4 | Paperback | £195.00
1,200 Pages | March 2010

NEW EDITION

Guidelines for the Assessment of General Damages in Personal Injury Cases

Ninth Edition

Judicial Studies Board

"I would not dream of advising on a personal injury matter without referring to the JSB Guidelines first."

Phillip Taylor MBE

- An essential reference on general damages for all those involved in the area of personal injury
- Guidelines are updated by a working party of the Judicial Studies Board
- Clearly laid out in tabular format according to injury classifications

The Guidelines are designed to provide a clear and logical framework for the assessment of general damages.

978-0-19-954858-3 | Paperback | £21.99
80 Pages | September 2008

The Law and Regulation of Medicines

Edited by Peter Feldschreiber, Barrister, Four New Square, Lincoln's Inn and Senior Medical Assessor, Medicines and Healthcare Products Regulatory Agency

"This is a superb textbook. It should be required reading and used as a reference source for all those involved in the development, regulation and legal practices of Medicines."

District Judge Stephen Gold

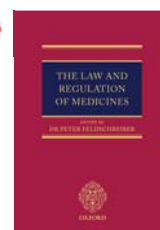

978-0-19-953467-8 | Hardback | £99.95
528 Pages | July 2008

The Law of Nuisance

John Murphy, Reader in Law, School of Law, University of Manchester

- Provides a comprehensive coverage of the law of nuisance in England and Wales. Analytical as well as explanatory, the author questions in depth the decisions of the courts which sit uncomfortably with doctrinal orthodoxy.

978-0-19-921453-2 | Hardback | £65.00
220 Pages | January 2010

NEW IN PAPERBACK

Torts and Rights

Robert Stevens, Professor of Commercial Law, University College London, Barrister, and formerly Lecturer at the University of Oxford, and Fellow of Lady Margaret Hall

- Devises an entirely new theory which reconceives the law of torts
- Comparative analysis of primary materials from all the major common law legal systems
- Covers a central area of practice and study for all lawyers

The law of torts is concerned with the secondary obligations generated by the infringement of primary rights. This work seeks to show that this apparently simple proposition enables us to understand the law of torts as found in the common law.

978-0-19-956384-5 | Paperback
£24.99 | February 2009

