

NEW EDITION

Smith & Wood's Employment Law

TENTH EDITION

Ian Smith, Barrister and Clifford Chance Professor of Employment Law, University of East Anglia, and Aaron Baker, Senior Lecturer in Law, Durham University

Updated by Ian Smith and Aaron Baker, Smith & Wood's Employment Law maintains its reputation for both comprehensive coverage and lucidity of presentation. With a new and improved structure, the tenth edition maps closely onto courses in employment law, providing an invaluable resource to students of this complex and fast-moving subject.

Online Resource Centre

- Regular updates post publication—crucial in this fast moving area of law
- Multiple choice questions allowing the reader to test their understanding of the topics being studied. Web links to useful sources of information to provide an ideal starting point to online research on employment law

978-0-19-956554-2, Paperback £31.99
April 2010, 721 pages

EU Social and Employment Law

Policy and Practice in an Enlarged Europe

Philippa Watson, Barrister, Essex Court Chambers; Visiting Professor, City Law School, London

This timely book provides a distinctively broad-based approach to EU employment law, covering related social policy and anti-discrimination measures, as well as a detailed overview of how policy and law are made. It derives from a section in the looseleaf Law of the EU (Vaughan & Robertson, eds), and is made available here in a revised and expanded form for the benefit of those who don't subscribe to the looseleaf. It analyses in detail EU legislation and case law in the areas of collective and individual employment rights, including redundancies, transfers of undertakings, working time, part-time and fixed term and temporary employment. The author further considers the important provisions and case-law concerning equality of treatment on the basis of gender, race, age, disability and religion. EU Social and Employment Law offers essential expertise in this increasingly important and fast changing area of European law.

978-1-90-450153-4, Hardback £85.00
March 2009, 584 pages

The Legal Construction of Personal Work Relations

Mark Freedland FBA, Professor of Employment Law at the University of Oxford, and Nicola Kountouris, Lecturer in Law at University College London

This book explores the conceptual framework of European employment law, focusing on understanding the law's construction of employment relationships. The book draws on extensive comparative research of the legal architecture of employment relations in national legal systems and EU law to analyse the traditional model of the contract of employment and the difficulties of using the traditional model to frame modern working relationships.

Throughout the book, the authors analyse the interaction of domestic and EU employment law, and discuss the possibility of future legal harmonisation in the area. They conclude by exploring the potential for a common frame of reference for European employment law, in the context of broader debates surrounding the harmonisation of European private law.

- Provides a critical and systematic analysis of the regulation of personal work contracts in European law
- Develops a new central organising idea for modern employment protection systems in the form of 'the personal work relation'
- Presents a comparative analysis of the regulation of personal work relations across selected European legal systems
- Explores the concepts of dignity, capability, and reliance in the context of the regulation of personal work relations and suggests new avenues for the reform of labour law systems on the basis of fairness, personal development, and economic performance

Oxford Monographs on Labour Law

978-0-19-955175-0, Hardback

£65.00

October 2010, 480 pages

LAW FROM OXFORD JOURNALS

Industrial Law Journal

Editor-in-Chief: Simon Deakin, University of Cambridge

Industrial Law Journal is established as the leading periodical in its field, providing comment and in-depth analysis on a wide range of topics relating to employment law.

Read a FREE Online Issue

1. Visit: http://services.oxfordjournals.org/my_account
2. Register as a new user by completing a brief online registration form
3. Select 'Access free sample issues' and choose Industrial Law Journal from the list

Published 4 times per year

Published on behalf of the Industrial Law Society

Browse and buy law resources on our new website

- Improved searching and browsing
- Sign up for catalogues and e-alerts
- Create your own wishlist

www.oup.com/uk/law