

Oxford University Press needs bioscience students!

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Could you help us to create inspiring new textbooks for students?

You can make a difference to the way that students learn by joining our student panel. We're looking for one student from each year in your bioscience department to:

- provide feedback through email surveys
- review chapters from forthcoming books
- take part in focus groups
- and spread the word!

Your opinions will help us to publish books that really meet students' needs. And by letting us know what you want from your textbooks, you'll also earn rewards, ranging from free books to amazon.co.uk vouchers!
