Concentrate series

For students who are serious about exam success, it's time to Concentrate!

Each guide in the Concentrate series shows students what to expect in a law exam, what examiners are looking for and how to achieve extra marks. This series is the result of a close collaboration with law students and examiners and careful and thorough research into effective revision techniques. Oxford University Press has worked with over 90 law students on every aspect of the series, from the covers to the text design, features and content. Every guide - as well as being written by subject experts with teaching and examining experience - has been peer reviewed to ensure written style is as clear as possible and that content is rigorous but not oversimplified.

- The substance of each topic is carefully distilled into concise supporting text
- Essential cases and their legal principles are clearly presented for easy recall
- Revision tips and real exam questions with answers show students how best to demonstrate understanding

Easy to navigate text design and numerous helpful features are key to the Concentrate series

ONLINE RESOURCE CENTRE

Additional valuable online resources accompany the Concentrate series. These include exam and revision guidelines, also available as a podcast. Resources for individual books include a diagnostic test, understanding your marks, interactive flashcard glossaries, and flashcard cases for self-testing and specific multiple choice questions with instant feedback.

“ What a welcome relief to the monotony of revision! A Concentrate guide is not only bright and easy-to-use, but it provides students with a real chance to refine their knowledge of specific legal areas in the run up to the exams. Owning a Concentrate guide helps you to really concentrate on your revision.

Chris Chilton, Durham University student ” “ Clearly this is a superior revision guide, which stands head and shoulders above any comparable work. I would have no hesitation in recommending it to as wide a range of students as possible.

Dewi Williams, Lecturer in Law, Staffordshire University, on Hargreaves: EU Law Concentrate ”
