what a laugh!

Late one night, a man walking home through a cemetery became frightened when he heard a tapping noise TAP-TAP-TAP-TAP-TAP. As he walked, the tapping got louder TAP-TAP-TAP-TAP-TAP!! and he became terrified. Suddenly, he came across a man, kneeling down, tapping at a tombstone with a chisel. 'Oh, thank goodness!' said the man. 'You frightened me. I didn't know what the noise was. What are you doing?' The other man turned to face him in the moonlight and said, 'They spelled my name wrong.'

would you believe it?

 A kidnapping trial in Colorado, USA, was nearly finished when a member of the jury confessed that he didn't have the slightest idea what was going on – he was totally deaf. The judge asked him whether he had understood anything at all, and sent him home when he didn't reply.

A few minutes later, another juror admitted that she hadn't understood anything either. Although fluent in Spanish, Portuguese, Russian and Swahili, she didn't know a single word of English, and was shocked to hear that she had been listening to a kidnapping trial.

Finally, a third juror revealed that he suffered from both afflictions: he was unable to speak English and had been completely deaf since childhood.

Not surprisingly, the trial was abandoned.
