

Oxford African American Studies Center

The online authority on the African American experience...

"Simply remarkable."

LIBRARY JOURNAL

Winner of the 2006 Besterman McColvin award for Best Electronic Reference Work

Library Journal Best Reference 2006

DID YOU KNOW?

$100 REWARD
WILL be given for the apprehension and delivery of my Servant Girl HARRIET. She is a light mulatto, 31 years of age, about 5 feet 4 inches high, of a thick and curling hair, having on her head a thick covering of black hair that curls naturally, but which can be easily combed straight. She speaks easily and distinctly, and has an agreeable countenance and address. Being a good seamstress, she has been accustomed to dress well, has a variety of very fine clothes, made in the prevailing fashion, and Harriet Ann Jacobs, having escaped from slavery, hid for almost seven years in a space measuring seven feet wide, nine feet long, and three feet high to avoid recapture.

The award-winning Oxford African American Studies Center combines the authority of carefully-edited reference works with sophisticated technology to create the most comprehensive collection of scholarship available online to focus on the lives and events which have shaped African American and African history and culture.

A unique and dynamic user-friendly resource...

- Unrivalled access to the full text of the highly-acclaimed 5-volume Africana, the new 3-volume Encyclopedia of African American History, 1619–1895, and the 3-volume Black Women in America
- Explore over 7,500 articles by top scholars in the field, and discover the lives of over 5,000 men and women who made an impact on African American history
- Charts, tables and graphs provide information on everything from demographics to government, politics, business, education, and the arts
- Thematic timelines guide users through the history of African Americans in Sports, Business and Labor, Military History, Women's History, Literature, and Africa and the Diaspora
- Primary source documents, with specially-written commentaries, take users through the personal and public histories of African Americans
- Over 1,000 images visually enhance the articles in the site
- More than 90 country and territory maps, and thematic maps highlight major events – from the Civil War to the Civil Rights Movement
- Learning resources are available to aid research at any level, and to help education professionals incorporate the Oxford African American Studies Center into their teaching
- Regular updates include new content, and revisions to existing articles
- Print editions of the multi-volume works that are included in the Oxford African American Studies Center are available for purchase from www.oup.com or from your preferred supplier

View Timelines

Select: All | None

Displaying 30 Moments from 1966 - 1971

← Previous Jump to year: [input] Next →

Year Moment

- 1966 Frank Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles become the first and only (as of 2006) black to win baseball's Triple Crown, leading the league in hitting average, home runs, and runs batted in (RBIs). He is unanimously voted the American League Most Valuable Player. He is the second African American in the American League to win the award and the first to be unanimously chosen. The same season, Robinson is named the World Series Most Valuable Player. Robinson will become the only player to win the Most Valuable Player in both the American and National leagues. Learn more >
- 1967 Renee Powell is the first black woman to join the Ladies Professional Golf Association (LPGA) tour. Learn more >
- 1967 The black Latino Rod Cerezo is named the American League Rookie of the Year. Learn more >
- 1967 Winston-Salem State becomes the first HBCU to win an NCAA title in basketball, the Division II championship.
- 1967 Oregon State's the St. Louis Cardinals first baseman, unapologetically was the National

DID YOU KNOW?

Malcolm X used to be nicknamed 'Detroit Red' because of his reddish hair.

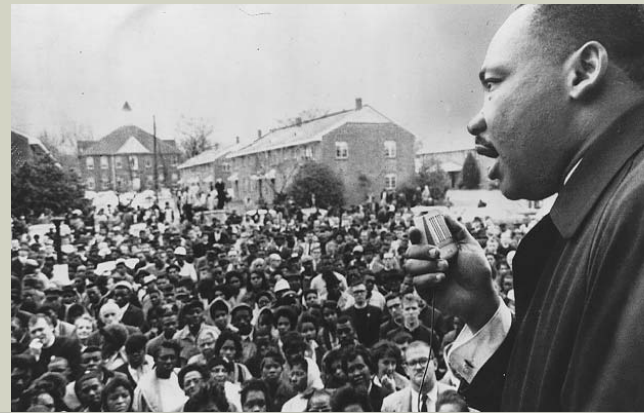

"There's not enough space to extol Oxford African American Studies Center's virtues sufficiently... Because it is so extraordinary, the resource makes it necessary this once to raise the usual rating scale of 1 to 10 to an unprecedented 11!" LIBRARY JOURNAL

Excellent functionality and an invaluable research resource...

- Quick search by name or word from every web page
- Advanced search options offer control over the results and range of search – use multiple fields, such as biographies, images, primary source documents, and bibliographies, along with Boolean search operators and wildcards
- Browse by content type – choose to start your research with biographies, subject entries, primary sources, charts and tables, images, and maps
- Extensive cross-references increase research possibilities, and provide an alternative way to browse the full text
- Entries can be printed and emailed to colleagues and friends
- Links to external resources on African American history and culture are organised by subject category to help users expand their research
- Export citations automatically to ProCite™, Endnote™, and Reference Manager™

Subscriber services include...

- Extensive online help and excellent customer and technical support
- Detailed usage statistics allow you to track how often your users are accessing the Oxford African American Studies Center
- OpenURL compliance enables your users to query your library catalogue with bibliographic information

oxfordonline.com

Oxford University Press offers a wide range of acclaimed online resources across many subject areas. To view a full list of products, visit www.oxfordonline.com

How to subscribe

The Oxford African American Studies Center is available by subscription to institutions and individuals worldwide.

- Institutions: Subscription prices are based on the size and type of institution. Please contact us for a price quotation (see right for details)
- Individuals: To subscribe online and gain instant access, go to www.oxfordonline.com/subscribe

Free trials and further information

Free trials of all our online products are available to institutions. Librarians and central resource coordinators can register for a trial at www.oxfordonline.com/freetrials. Find out the latest information available for the Oxford African American Studies Center, including new content and functionality updates, by joining our mailing list at www.oxfordonline.com/listserv

How to contact us

For further information about all Oxford Online products, and to request institutional free trials and price quotations, please contact us:

Customers outside North and South America
E: onlineproducts@oup.com
T: +44 (0)1865 353705
F: +44 (0)1865 353308

Customers in North and South America
E: oxfordonline@oup.com
T: 1 800 624 0153
F: 1 919 677 8877

All images & photographs courtesy of the Library of Congress

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS